Vermont Public Utilities Commission
112 State St
Montpelier, VT 05620
Re: 21-1107-PET

Dear Commissioners,

Please find below a petition from over 760 Vermonters calling for GlobalFoundries to be held accountable to Vermont's statewide clean energy and pollution reduction requirements, and for the PUC to reject GlobalFoundries' demands to be exempted from critical renewable energy and climate laws.

As you know, GlobalFoundries, the largest electricity user in Vermont, is petitioning to become a "self-managed utility," a concept which simply does not exist in state law.

In doing so, GlobalFoundries is declaring it should be functionally or literally exempt from the state's renewable energy and energy efficiency laws. If Vermont accedes to GlobalFoundries wishes, it would be putting energy policy authority for 8 percent of Vermont's electricity usage – more than the amount used by the city of Burlington – in the hands of a multibillion-dollar, multinational corporation.

This is a request for special treatment by a large multinational corporation that no other company or ratepayer gets. And this special treatment would come at the cost of the public – Vermont businesses, utilities, and ratepayers – as we work to meet the climate pollution reduction requirements of the Vermont Global Warming Solutions Act (Act 153 of 2020).

GlobalFoundries' outrageous request to be carved out of every major renewable energy and efficiency law in Vermont cannot be granted. In testimony in the Senate Committee on Finance, a GlobalFoundries representative stated that they "[do] not want to see" its emissions "increase."¹ Such a goal is wholly inadequate: Vermont has a statutory mandate that statewide emissions decline significantly by 2025, and far further by 2030 and 2050.

A major corporation "not increasing" the pollution from its operations in Vermont, while the rest of us work together to cut carbon pollution and achieve our shared goals, falls far short of the mark. What's more, GlobalFoundries is not just the largest electricity user in Vermont, it is also the single largest emitter of greenhouse gas pollution in the state. Any change to its status – which cannot include a change to a "self-managed utility" as GlobalFoundries defines it, as such a change has not been authorized in statute – must come with clear requirements for renewable electricity, energy efficiency, and climate pollution reductions for 2025, 2030, and 2050 in line with the Global Warming Solutions Act.

Sincerely,

Ben Edgerly Walsh
Climate & Energy Program Director
Vermont Public Interest Research Group

¹ Vermont Senate Committee on Finance April 9, 2021. <https://youtu.be/-mUAX2wSHpA>

We, the undersigned, believe GlobalFoundries must be held accountable to Vermont's statewide clean energy and pollution reduction requirements.

Vermont cannot remove GlobalFoundries' electricity use - a full 8% of our statewide electric consumption - from our statewide climate and energy policies by making the unprecedented move to designate it a "self-managed utility" - a concept which simply does not exist in state law and that undermines existing laws.

And GlobalFoundries must take seriously its obligation to cut the significant industrial climate pollution it creates, to hit the industrial sector's share of Vermont's 2025 and 2030 legally binding climate targets.

We cannot meet our climate pollution reduction requirements without the necessary work in every part of our economy - and that includes huge, profitable corporations like GlobalFoundries.

The PUC and the Scott Administration must reject GlobalFoundries' attempts to be exempted from critical renewable energy and climate laws, and require them to get on track to hit the industrial sector's 2025 and 2030 obligations under the Global Warming Solutions Act.
