PUBLIC UTILITY COMMISSION

Case No. 22-3947-TF

Tariff filing of City of Burlington Electric Department to revise its net-metering tariff effective October 1, 2022
---	--

Order entered: 01/23/2023

INFORMATION REQUESTS

On November 16, 2022, the Vermont Public Utility Commission (“Commission”) issued an order opening an investigation into subsections V.F.(5) and (6) of the City of Burlington Electric Department’s (“BED”) net-metering tariff.

On December 21, 2022, I issued a scheduling order setting a deadline of January 24, 2023, for the Commission to issue information requests on BED, and a deadline of February 10, 2023, for BED to respond to those requests. The Commission’s information requests are as follows:

 - a. In subsection V.F.(5) of BED’s net-metering tariff, BED has proposed striking the reference to subsection V.F.(3) and replacing it with a reference to subsection V.F.(4). Subsection V.F.(4) concerns additional compensation that BED will pay customers beyond the compensation provided for under subsection V.F.(1). Therefore, as BED’s tariff is currently proposed, the credit referred to in subsection V.F.(5) would be based upon the $0.052265 per kWh payments only. Is this BED’s intention? Under prior iterations of BED’s net-metering tariff, it appears that the credit under subsection V.F.(5) would have been based upon the amount calculated under subsections V.F.(1) and (4).
 - b. Please explain in detail how BED is calculating the credits that are carried forward under subsection V.F.(5) of BED’s current approved tariff?
 - c. Please explain in detail how BED is proposing to calculate the credits under the proposed revisions to subsection V.F.(5)?

2. How many customers are currently billed by BED in accordance with section V.F. of BED's net-metering tariff? On what date will BED no longer have any systems receiving credits in accordance with subsection V.F.(5)?

SO ORDERED.

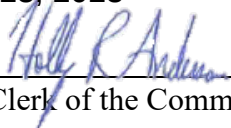

Dated at Montpelier, Vermont, this 23rd day of January, 2023.
