Case No. 24-2797-PET

Motion to Intervene Supporting Document

Dear Public Utility Commission,

I am filing this Motion to Intervene after the deadline because I only learned about this project through a newspaper article that I think said the deadline was Oct. 8. I immediately wrote to the PUC Clerk as shown in the email correspondence below. My outreach to the Clerk was on the day of the deadline and before the close of business. Her response arrived the next day.

My intervention will not unduly delay these proceedings. There is no other way to protect my interests. No other party is intervening on the issues I am raising.

Please accept my Motion to Intervene as timely filed based on my initial attempt to reach out to the PUC prior to the deadline.

Sincerely,

Steve Dolgin

St. Johnsbury, Vermont

Subject: Biomass project in Lyndonville/ ST Johnsbury Industrial Park

Hi Holly

My name is Steven Dolgin and I just found out about this project. I have an apartment building located within approximately 1/2 miles of this location. My building houses 9 families.

I am asking if there is a deadline to file a complaint and any case number associated with this? This is terribly important as I guess it it being "approved " with out any public hearing?

I can be reached at 518-645-6830. Steve Dolgin thanks for your quick reply..

Subject: VT Public Utility Commission RE: Biomass project in Lyndonville/ ST Johnsbury Industrial Park - #24-2797-PET

Hello,

I believe the case you are referring to is #24-2797-PET Petition of Vermont Renewable Gas, LLC for a certificate of public good, pursuant to 30 V.S.A. § 248(j), for approval to construct and operate a 2.2 MW farm methane facility in Lyndon, Vermont.

Here is a link to a page on our website with information regarding participation in Commission processes (<https://puc.vermont.gov/public-participation/introduction-participating-commission-processes>).

This case is a §248(j) filing. Here is a link to a document which provides general information about the typical procedures for a Section 248(j) case <https://puc.vermont.gov/document/section-248j-procedures> This document includes information about public comments and public hearing.

As described in the documents, the petitioners sent notice of this filing to adjoining landowners. There is a document in the case in our ePUC system (<https://epuc.vermont.gov/>) that lists the adjoining landowners. You can go into the system and search for case 24-2797-PET. When in the case you can view all documents filed and issued in the matter.

For case #24-2797-PET, the due date for comments and intervention expired on 10/7/24.
