I would like to add my name to those opposed to this purchase.

Rarely does one so consistently hear of a company associated with poor customer care as Comcast.

To think that we in Vermont, who pride ourselves on judging quality of character, are being asked to roll over without protest to such a proposal is deeply disappointing.

If this goes through, we will have segued in a single step from a family-run local operation where the president of the firm (or his brother) often came by for service calls, to a gigantic international corporation who will pay us as much heed and respect as a bug caught under a shoe.

Sometimes, business decisions have got to be more than just about money.

Respectfully,
Archer Mayor
