I am very much against the Clean heat Standard. It will not only raise the cost to heat homes, cook or heat hot water in VT homes and businesses, but it won't make a difference in relation to climate change. Our state is just too small for this bill to affect any real change. In addition, how will these credits be issued, kept track of etc? Seems like a lot of bureaucracy and someone will be making money off the backs of Vermont taxpayers and citizens. This has to be the worst idea ever when dealing with climate change. Please do what you can to knock this down so it does not go forward and become law.

Sincerely,
Jennifer Quenneville
