It takes a very special kind of stupid to even consider adding a greater cost to heat our home. As a fixed income Family, the current inflation rate has almost doubled our heating estimate. We have had to lower our thermostat and wear extra clothing due to the cost increases from D.C. As bad as that is, we are even more upset that people in control of Vermont are now going to make the situation worse. California has people moving out in droves, and as God knows, if I could afford to move South, I would, but as stupid Vermonters are unconcerned about the cost of living, we are being forced to move in with our kids. Congratulations to the ignorant people in the Vermont House and Senate who are more concerned with the appearance of controlling the climate change than the wellbeing of their constituents. You all deserve the stupid of the decade award.
Disgusted and colder again, Arnold Clough, Rutland, VT.
